Text Hebrews 7:23-28

23 Furthermore, the former priests were many in number, because they were prevented by death from continuing in office; 24 but he holds his priesthood permanently, because he continues forever. 25 Consequently he is able for all time to save those who approach God through him, since he always lives to make intercession for them.

26 For it was fitting that we should have such a high priest, holy, blameless, undefiled, separated from sinners, and exalted above the heavens. 27 Unlike the other high priests, he has no need to offer sacrifices day after day, first for his own sins, and then for those of the people; this he did once for all when he offered himself. 28 For the law appoints as high priests those who are subject to weakness, but the word of the oath, which came later than the law, appoints a Son who has been made perfect forever.

SPORTS PARAPHRASE

23 Furthermore, the former referees were many in number, because they were prevented by their mortality from calling every game in every season; 24 but he holds his position as referee permanently, because he continues forever. 25 Consequently he is able for all time to save those who approach God through him, since he always lives to make the call for them.

26 For it was fitting that we should have such a head referee, right thinking, blameless, unbiased, separated from players, and exalted above the crowds. 27 Unlike the other head refs, he has no need to review or reverse calls day after day, first for his own missed calls, and then for those of the people; this he did once for all when he offered himself. 28 For the league appoints as head referees those who are subject to weakness, but the word of the oath, which came later than the league, appoints a Son who has been made perfect forever.
